ANNUAL SPRING EVENT

"Sexual Excitement and Attraction in Groups: Through the Developmental Lens"

STEWART L. ALEDORT, M.D., CGP

Friday, May 16, 2008

6:30 – 10:30 P.M.

(Annual Membership Business meeting, 6:30 – 7:20 p.m.; Presentation 7:20 – 9:30 p.m.; Reception 9:30 p.m.)

Pratt Institute, Room 213

144 West 14th Street, New York City

Dr. Aledort, known for his compelling presentations, will discuss his unique approach to working with sexual excitement and attraction in groups. In his lecture, he will explore the connections between the child's early "passionate bad fits" and adult capacity for intimacy, sexuality and healthy identity. Afterwards, he will lead a demonstration group where the members will have the opportunity to explore their passionate good and bad fits. He is particularly interested in the role of the therapist in this process. Join us for a rich and exciting evening!

Stewart L. Aledort, MD, CGP is one of the founders of the National Group Psychotherapy Institute at the Washington School of Psychiatry, a faculty member of the Washington Psychoanalytic Institute and a Clinical Associate Professor of Psychiatry at the George Washington School of Medicine. He's an experienced workshop presenter (including Institutes at AGPA) and has authored numerous publications.
