GROUP

The Journal of the Eastern Group Psychotherapy Society (EGPS)

Description and Mission GROUP is the journal of the Eastern Group Psychotherapy Society that publishes articles and reviews on the use of groups in the service of healing. GROUP is a scholarly quarterly that publishes articles and reviews on group psychotherapy and group phenomena in general.

The journal encourages creative thought and dissemination of knowledge about group processes and welcomes multiple theoretical orientations, contexts, purposes, and ideologies. Aspiring to be intentionally anti-oppressive to all people, GROUP seeks to advance scholarship that exemplifies respect of the historical and current contexts, needs, values, and strengths of cultures, races, and genders typically under- and misrepresented in post-colonial literature. The Journal encourages early-career and clinicians from historically excluded groups to submit manuscripts for consideration.

Call for Papers

All accepted manuscripts are subject to undergo peer review, including statistical review. All articles accepted for publication will be eligible to have accompanying invited commentaries published by experts in the field and will be published quickly.

Submission Guidelines

All submissions should be sent to the submissions editor at groupsubmission@egps.org as a Word document (.doc or .docx or .rtf format).

TITLE PAGE: The title page should include the author's (or authors') name(s) and affiliation (if any), the mailing address, email address, and phone number of the author designated to review proofs from the publisher. In a footnote to the authors' names on the first page of the article, repeat the affiliation and address for reader correspondence.

ABSTRACT: An abstract of no more than 250 words should go at the beginning. List up to six keywords (for Web searches) after the abstract.

APA GUIDELINES: Only submissions that follow the most recent APA guidelines will be accepted. Contributors are encouraged to utilize person-first and inclusive language (further information on APA Inclusive Language Guidelines can be found here).

PRIOR TO SUBMISSION: Prior to submitting, please check for content, style, correct grammar, syntax, and spelling. Manuscripts not compliant with instructions will be returned to the author for adjustment and resubmission.

CASE MATERIAL: If case material is used, it is the writer's responsibility to protect confidentiality and ensure that all submitted materials have been appropriately deidentified.

PRIOR TO PUBLICATION: If an article is accepted, page proofs will be sent to the author for proofreading and checking prior to publication.

COPYRIGHT: Submission of a manuscript to GROUP is considered to be a representation that it is the work of the author(s) on the title page, that it has not been published already, wholly or in part, and is not under consideration for publication elsewhere. A statement transferring copyright from the authors (or their employers if they hold the copyright) to the Eastern Group Psychotherapy Society will be required before manuscripts are accepted for publication.

REPUBLISHING: Authors wishing to republish their articles in print or on a website must first request permission from the editor of GROUP.

The editorial team at GROUP looks forward to working with you throughout submission to publication!
